(1440-1505) IVAN III, the GREAT

King of Russia and the founder of the monarchy still in existence in 1910.
He was son & successor of VASILI, the BLIND, and came to the throne in 1402.
His achievements were: the consolidation of the Russian Empire; the expulsion of the TATARS; the union of the Byzantine
Empire by his marriage with SOPHIA
PALEOLOGOS, niece of the last emperor.

In 1481, he defeated the Tatars and began the release from the chain which had bound Russia for 2 centuries and a half. He opened diplomatic relations with other European countries by the exchange of envoys. He was succeeded by his son Vasili or Basil.
